Application Update

- Communication with our Community College Districts is in progress
- All community college partners are on board and want to see their students apply.
- Relationships are being developed through lots of zoom meetings.

Partner Engagement

- The Inland Empire RHHO has been working with its community college partners, who have been very helpful.
- Community college partners have been very accommodating with presentation requests, allowing space to provide application workshops online and in person at each campus.
- Community college contacts have been receptive to ideas and additional options on recruitment such as presenting during scheduled counselor meetings, in introductory biology courses, and at table events.
- The most exciting part has been working with the students who have been showing strong interest in the program.
