11:13:19 From Dena Bullard to Everyone: Ozzie, more than 70% match in CA residency programs.

11:14:37 From Dena Bullard to Everyone: that's for UC graduates (more than 80% of whom are from CA)

11:15:33 From Ozzie Lopez, Ed.D. to Everyone: That's great! Its important to keep the talent pipeline within the state.

11:17:35 From Maria R Lemus (Asm. Arambula) to Everyone: SB 395

11:18:48 From Angel-Max Guerrero to Everyone: Thank you, Maria!

11:21:39 From Dena Bullard to Everyone: Here's a link to the Psychiatric Mental Health NP program: <https://nursing.ucsf.edu/PMHNP-postmasters-certificate> They are recruiting for January 2023 entry (must have the recruited for January 2022 already).

11:28:54 From Mary Renner, CVHN to Everyone: Thank you, all, for the great information. Sorry to have to logoff to host another call now. Take care everyone.

11:28:59 From Paz Delsid to Everyone: These slides are available on the CHPC website: <https://chpc.ucsf.edu/member-meetings>

11:35:35 From Dena Bullard to Everyone: Ditto on the awesome HCC interns :)

11:35:40 From Peggy Wheeler to Everyone: Thank you, all. I need to log off early.

11:35:57 From Kathy Flores to Everyone: Thank you, Peggy.

11:36:32 From Jeff Oxendine (he/him/his) to Everyone: Glad to hear the HCC intern success! Our future health leaders and professionals! Thanks for your support!

11:43:41 From Rowena Robles, PhD to Everyone: rrobles@foundationccc.org

11:48:58 From Nataly Diaz to Everyone: New update I received today in case anyone is interested. AmeriCorps and CDC Launch New Organization for Public Health. AmeriCorps, the federal agency for volunteering and national service, has launched Public Health AmeriCorps, a new partnership with the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) to support the recruitment, training, and development of a workforce ready to respond to the nation's public health needs. The program, which is supported by a $400 million investment from the American Rescue Plan Act, is anticipated to fund up to 5,000 AmeriCorps positions over the next five years.

11:50:33 From Brooke Briggance (she/her) to Everyone: @nataly - Yes, we are "receiving" 8 new VISTAS from that AmeriCorps pipeline to support FACES pipeline programs across CA. They will be supporting our Public Health Youth Corps (funded by HRSA) - leveraging high school students in FACES programs and pivoting them to peer vaccine education.

11:59:44 From Elizabeth Rega to Everyone: I am taking notes madly.

12:00:07 From Glenda Monterroza / Kaiser Permanente to Everyone: Will there be meeting notes? I'm not sure if this meeting was recorded.

12:00:10 From Elizabeth Rega to Everyone: Jeff, can we share this deck with our institutions?

12:00:38 From Jeff Oxendine (he/him/his) to Everyone: Yes, you can share. I will update and share

12:02:13 From Irene Ornelas to Everyone: Super exciting to see recommendations from the report coming to fruition! It's been a key document that HWI has been using to guide our work.

12:04:35 From Brooke Briggance (she/her) to Everyone: Aside from funding, I think those of us who work at the high school level need the partnership with 2 and 4 year colleges that can support our case to funders that we are a part of the pipeline.

12:06:08 From Angel-Max Guerrero to Everyone: Yes! UCSF (main campus) is supporting middle & high school students interested in the health sciences via partnerships with SF and SF Bay Area school districts. Of particular note, funding for paid internships are key

12:06:52 From April Treece to Everyone: Agreed! And, even when those partnerships exist, it takes special resources to help underserved students to keep up with their academics, have opportunities to earn & learn, and need to earn meaningful college credit while in high school toward their post-secondary goals.

12:07:04 From Isaac Avila-Vargas to Everyone: How can pre-meds and pre-health students get involved in helping/supporting these programs?

12:08:51 From April Treece to Everyone: We are just now trying to bring long-term CSUEB Public Health university students into high school health pathways....it takes resources, but it will allow our kids to connect to post-secondary and to see themselves in their mentors. We are hopeful more can be done because in the East Bay, we have a good number of mature high school health pathways.

12:11:02 From Angel-Max Guerrero to Everyone:As with April/LEEDs, we are connecting UCSF professional students with Bay Area school districts health pathways, ROP, etc. Completely agree with all of April's comments above

12:16:09 From Mark Henderson to Everyone: <https://www.learncompadre.com>

12:19:04 From Dena Bullard to Everyone: Have to log off for another meeting now but really appreciate all that was shared to day! Happy to see all of the progress. Thanks to all!

12:19:24 From Paz Delsid to Everyone: Thank you Dena!

12:20:59 From Brooke Briggance (she/her) to Everyone: Mental Health First Aid certification is quickly becoming a best practice standard for supporting all of us during a critical time. You can learn more here: <https://www.mentalhealthfirstaid.org/> And here is the link to our work at Public Health Institute that focuses on MHFA and trauma informed practice training:
